Previously the four baby was with her sitting ance of the story. She was trying some fish, her was and went to the to pick up something when the children screamed. I thought the devil was in the air, as we were surrounded by a glow of fire. They had the rail-and them at terrific speed, could move, the ball seemed to jump through and into the air, and rolled across the floor to the range I grabbed by baby, who by the Grace of God was not in the path of the phenomena, and then, as it had appeared from nowhere, it disappeared as if in a void. The children ran into the house, hysterical. I started to slap my little daughter's face to snap her out of her near convulsion, when a dreadful calm seemed to close on us and hold us as if in a vise. A frightening quiet descended, with all noises obliterated. We felt we could not breathe in the hot, close, still air. It seemed more terrifying than the fiery ball of seconds before. We stood grouped for what seemed about five minutes, then miraculously the windows cleared, the enveloping blanket of quiet heat lifted, and cool moist air was puffed into our lungs by all of us. The normal everyday noises returned, as though the frightful quiet had never been, and fear was alleviated.

"Never did I think to witness such a harrowing experience, and the strangest part is that no trace of scorch or burn remained in the house to give evidence that such a manifestation had occurred. Had we not all five seen it and felt the deadly quiet, stillness, I would have believed I had been under the spell of an evil nightmare or imaginary fantasy from some strange fiction story.

The dreadful experience of Mrs. Ryan and her children did not show the fury of the elements whose sole purpose seemed destruction, but almost within minutes, nothing away from Mr. Ryan's home and the convent and the monstrous phenomena claimed its victim.

Rhoda, a six year old Great Dane the pet of Mr. and Mrs.
Frank Taconi, 106 Newcastle St., was standing on the steps of the back porch of the residence. Mr. and Mrs. Taconi were in their kitchen. Mrs. Taconi finishes the story for us:

"Frank was near a year old. I was standing just in the kitchen door. Rhoda, our yards away from me. There ed out, Rhoda was lying pool of blood on the step, bleeding was internal, no dence of wound or burn was her body. She had been well healthy, so we could only bute her death to a strike lightning. I have never so scared in my entire life.

Soon after claiming its vic-the vivid flashes became faint and the thunder grew less some and soon abated."

This is Bay St. Louis, the circumstances could readily be be attributed as the cause

Major John Scaffide and Lt. John Griffin tied for first place with low net scores of 142 each in the 36 hole match.

Third place was won by C. McDonald, Sr., with a low net of 145 for the 36 holes.

A special meeting of club executives is being called to-night at 8:00 p. m. at the club house for the purpose of planning the second annual tournament.

"There were more golfers playing in this tournament than any other feature of the club held during the entire year," said "and we feel that an annual tournament will continue to prove of great interest to all golfers in this section."

Stormy Miller, an eleven year old member of the Sunday School whose efforts enrolled 18 new students, was given "the honor Sunday" of breaking a photograph of the record.

"Break the record of 78," symbolizing the breaking of the previous high enrollment of 78 students.

WAVELAND WANDERINGS

by GEORGETTE B. HALL

Last week WE GOOFED! In our enthusiasm to sing the praises of the Waveland Youth Center and the fine folks who are managing it, we mentioned an incorrect date for the BIG OPEN HOUSE planned for the teen ages this week. The night for the big affair is this Friday night, September 7, at the Waveland Youth Center, Waveland School. We fully realize that on this night is also the first scheduled football game of the Bay High Tigers and students who want to see the game will join the crowd at St. Stanislaus Stadium. However, Mrs. Reynolds informs us that you can join the fun at the Youth Center after the game and enjoy the free snacks and free drinks that will be most welcome after cheering the Tigers to victory. Of course, these youngsters who do not plan to attend the game, are welcome to get an early start dancing to the new top twenty tunes now available on the Youth Center's juke box. The fun begins at 7 P. M. You are invited to bring your friends and join the festivities. Don't forget the date! Friday, September 7, at the Waveland Youth Center!

Miss Optometric Aims to Recommend Better Care of Eyes

Fifty per cent of all children who fail reading have an uncorrected vision problem, according to the Mississippi Optometric Association, of which recommend better care for the 38 million pupils entering school in September.

The Association said the figure was based on a University of Chicago study of causes of reading failure.

At further evidence of the importance of vision to school achievement, it cited an Ohio State University study. There it was found that among children with "normal" vision, 73 per cent were scholastically satisfactory; 27 per cent were partial failures; and more were total failures.

Among children with vision problems, only 44 per cent were scholastically satisfactory; 19 per cent were partial failures; and 37 per cent failed in all subjects.

"With the aid of modern science, most all children can have their vision brought up to par," the association said. "The greatest need is for more diligence in discovering the cases that need care. Better vision screening methods are needed in schools to supplement the superficial Snellen letter chart test."

The Association praised modern teachers for their ability to detect symptoms of vision problems observed as the child does his school work.

Every minority has a tendency to blame the majority for its own mistakes.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Kathleen Hendrix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hendrix celebrated her fifteenth birthday Monday, with a group of school friends present at her home to enjoy the festive occasion.

About a dozen teen-age girls gathered during the afternoon, danced, played games and attended the early show, after which they returned to the Hendrix home for an informal supper.

The time is World War II during the island-invasion phase of the Pacific operation; the setting, New Caledonia, simmering in the backwash of war and a breeding spot for the taut emotions that trouble behind-the-lines personnel. Miss Kerr a Red Cross volunteer and a war widow, is just the wrong kind of person to be stationed there. She has put her emotions on ice, but they're ready to explode at any time.

Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Piazza were hosts on Thursday, August 30, when they entertained at their Citizen Street home honoring their youngest daughter, Marilyn, on the occasion of her ninth birthday.

Eight girl friends were invited to share the fun with the honoree. Red roses and white trim were used in the color decorations, while a traditional birthday cake, white trimmed with pink roses, glowed with nine candles for wishing.

Games were played and prizes awarded the winners. Among the guests were Jo Mary Artigues, Cynthia Dedaux, Dianne Carver, Geraldine Kidd, Janet and Louise Beal and Melva Luke.

The Proud and Profane

At Hi-Way Theatre
September 9, 10, 11

Powerful portrayal of two absorbing personalities by William Holden and Deborah Kerr backed by frank but graceful handling of delicate themes, have made "The Proud and Profane," at the Hi-Way Drive-In Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, a deeply moving motion picture. It fulfills all the promises of great story, sensitive performances, and masterful direction and production that made it one of the year's most eagerly-awaited films.

The Periberg - Seaton Paramount Production demanded the best from everyone involved in it, and it got just that. The gallery of arresting portraits headed by Holden's and Miss Kerr's is perfectly rounded out by a supporting cast of Thelma Ritter, Dewey Martin and William Redfield, while the smaller parts are without exception expertly handled. The total effect is a slice of life that captures you so completely its sense of time becomes your own.
